

"A Firefighters' Secret Prayer"

Dear God,

Bless my hands so that they may find that one lost soul which reaches from the rubble relying on my strength to set them free.

Bless my eyes, oh God, to see through the smoke and flames to change the fate of someone who is in need.

Bless my ears to hear the faint cries of a child under a bed or in a dark closet wanting to be found, yet unable to realize the danger that lies in wait.

And dear God, bless me to use the wisdom of my years to protect me in my quest, so that I may return home to my children and wife.

In God, I pray.

Author: chief Jeff A. Strickland

Posted on Brotherhood of Fire 08/03/13 - Facebook